A breakthrough in kidney transplantation 🐷

In January, a UAB team delivered a breakthrough that may end the burden of waiting for a kidney transplant. Researchers in the Heersink School of Medicine successfully transplanted two genetically modified pig kidneys inside the abdomen of Jim Parsons, an organ donor whose family's generosity made the project possible.

UAB Magazine 📖

The university's flagship publication published two editions this year — one print and one digital — featuring stories highlighting the successes of Live HealthSmart Alabama, the progress of UAB's Campus Master Plan, reflections from pioneer researcher Mike Saag, M.D., achievements of three Nigerian-born alumni-turned-entrepreneurs, new study-abroad opportunities for students, and a partnership working to reshape cancer research in the Deep South.

Spring/Summer 2022

Fall/Winter 2022

Onward and upward 📈

It was a groundbreaking year, literally and figuratively, with ceremonies to initiate construction of the Altec/Styslinger Genomic Medicine and Data Sciences building, to celebrate 50th anniversaries for two programs, to honor a milestone gift to the College of Arts and Sciences and Collat School of Business, and to announce a new conference for UAB Athletics.
