Graduate/Professional Students

GSA orientation set for Friday

Learn about campus services, student organizations and local businesses during the graduate student info session from 3 to 5 p.m. Aug. 17 in the Rec Center. Then enjoy free food and live music provided by some of UAB's own graduate students, post-docs and faculty from 6 to 11 p.m. in The Barking Kudu, 2929 Seventh Ave. South.

SHP spotlight shines on Aaron Weeks

Aaron Weeks only had to move up one floor from his undergraduate program, Nuclear Medicine Technology, to begin his graduate studies in the School of Health Professions Physical Therapy program. Though his path to PT may have been unusual, he sees both programs make a huge impact on the quality of a person's life.

New UAB PDA newsletter now online

All the latest news and upcoming events for the UAB Postdoctoral Association can be found in its online August 2012 newsletter.

Stephan to deliver Aug. 24 GCAT lecture

Paula Stephan, Ph.D., an economist from Georgia State University, will discuss the patterns and prospects of employment for future scientists at the UAB Graduate Career Awareness and Trends (GCAT) lecture to be held at 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 24 in the Lister Hill Library Ireland Room; refreshments will be served.

A few good mentors: Program pairs students with alumni

While there are valuable lessons to be learned in the books and classrooms of the UAB School of Optometry, alumnus Martin Habel, O.D., says students also can benefit from an experienced guide to help usher them into the real world. A mentor, if you will, to bridge the gap between studying pathology and helping patients.
