Women suffering from the same illness as her mom.

Mom's cancer journey motivates infusion nurse's career

One more thing

Tools

Student Potential with Packback's AI

Program Officer

How to Engage and Speak with Your

More learning opportunities collaborative research efforts. Submission deadline is June 1; award date is Sept. 1.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

Do you study exercise and/or skeletal muscles?

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

UAB Learning & Development Learn to Win Challenge Returns

Mark your calendars

Blazer achievements

Travel Reimbursement Guide

Meal policies, internet travel services, conference registration fees — the new

Questions about travel? Check this guide

Hospital-Highlands and clinics across the metro area. Services include treatment for injuries and musculoskeletal conditions, concussion evaluation and platelet-rich plasma injections to speed healing. Visit

uabmedicine.org/sports

to make an appointment with UAB Sports & Exercise Medicine, which sees patients at UAB

UAB employees and their family members have the inside track on same-day or next-

Fast access to Sports & Exercise Medicine for UAB community

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

Do you have news you want to share, use the

Calendar

Get campus news at

More news online

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

UAB Learning & Development Learn to Win Challenge Returns

Mark your calendars

Blazer achievements

Travel Reimbursement Guide

Meal policies, internet travel services, conference registration fees — the new

Questions about travel? Check this guide

Hospital-Highlands and clinics across the metro area. Services include treatment for

injuries and musculoskeletal conditions, concussion evaluation and platelet-rich plasma

injections to speed healing. Visit

uabmedicine.org/sports

to make an appointment with UAB Sports & Exercise Medicine, which sees patients at UAB

UAB employees and their family members have the inside track on same-day or next-

Fast access to Sports & Exercise Medicine for UAB community

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

Do you have news you want to share, use the

Calendar

Get campus news at

More news online

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

UAB Learning & Development Learn to Win Challenge Returns

Mark your calendars

Blazer achievements

Travel Reimbursement Guide

Meal policies, internet travel services, conference registration fees — the new

Questions about travel? Check this guide

Hospital-Highlands and clinics across the metro area. Services include treatment for

injuries and musculoskeletal conditions, concussion evaluation and platelet-rich plasma

injections to speed healing. Visit

uabmedicine.org/sports

to make an appointment with UAB Sports & Exercise Medicine, which sees patients at UAB

UAB employees and their family members have the inside track on same-day or next-

Fast access to Sports & Exercise Medicine for UAB community

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

Do you have news you want to share, use the

Calendar

Get campus news at

More news online

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

UAB Learning & Development Learn to Win Challenge Returns

Mark your calendars

Blazer achievements

Travel Reimbursement Guide

Meal policies, internet travel services, conference registration fees — the new

Questions about travel? Check this guide

Hospital-Highlands and clinics across the metro area. Services include treatment for

injuries and musculoskeletal conditions, concussion evaluation and platelet-rich plasma

injections to speed healing. Visit

uabmedicine.org/sports

to make an appointment with UAB Sports & Exercise Medicine, which sees patients at UAB

UAB employees and their family members have the inside track on same-day or next-

Fast access to Sports & Exercise Medicine for UAB community

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

Do you have news you want to share, use the

Calendar

Get campus news at

More news online

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

UAB Learning & Development Learn to Win Challenge Returns

Mark your calendars

Blazer achievements

Travel Reimbursement Guide

Meal policies, internet travel services, conference registration fees — the new

Questions about travel? Check this guide

Hospital-Highlands and clinics across the metro area. Services include treatment for

injuries and musculoskeletal conditions, concussion evaluation and platelet-rich plasma

injections to speed healing. Visit

uabmedicine.org/sports

to make an appointment with UAB Sports & Exercise Medicine, which sees patients at UAB

UAB employees and their family members have the inside track on same-day or next-

Fast access to Sports & Exercise Medicine for UAB community

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

Do you have news you want to share, use the

Calendar

Get campus news at

More news online

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

UAB Learning & Development Learn to Win Challenge Returns

Mark your calendars

Blazer achievements

Travel Reimbursement Guide

Meal policies, internet travel services, conference registration fees — the new

Questions about travel? Check this guide

Hospital-Highlands and clinics across the metro area. Services include treatment for

injuries and musculoskeletal conditions, concussion evaluation and platelet-rich plasma

injections to speed healing. Visit

uabmedicine.org/sports

to make an appointment with UAB Sports & Exercise Medicine, which sees patients at UAB

UAB employees and their family members have the inside track on same-day or next-

Fast access to Sports & Exercise Medicine for UAB community

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

Do you have news you want to share, use the

Calendar

Get campus news at

More news online

Assistant professor Alan Franks' most recent documentary captures his experiences in

the Institute of Transportation

Award from the Southern District of

Transportation Engineering Education

Virginia Sisiopiku, Ph.D., professor in

Transportation engineering

the Department of Civil, Construction,

Virginia Tech. She recently received the

Achievement Award.

she has received several national and local awards for her teaching and for her

research.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.

You could get funding from the UAB Center for Exercise Medicine, which has announced

the Power Skills for Today and Tomorrow contest through May 31.